ANOTHER FLOOD IN 9,000 YEARS.

A Prediction That the Ocean Will Submerge the Northern Continent.

The map of the world, as geographers have outlined it, shows that there is a vast preponderance of land north of the equator. Humboldt estimated that Asia stands at an average height of 1,150 feet above the level of the ocean; South America, 1,130; North America, 750; Europe, 670 feet. The average height of all the land above the sea level—omitting Africa and Australia, which are mostly south of the equator—is about 920 feet. The landed surface of the northern hemisphere is about 44,000,000 square miles; that of the southern hemisphere about 14,000,000 to 16,000,000 square miles, leaving a difference of say 28,000,000 square miles of land of an average height of 920 feet above the sea level.

But as there is the same visible excess of water on the southern side that there is of land on the northern, and as the depth of the seas is about the same, it follows that the weight of the excess of submerged land in the northern hemisphere must be added to the 28,000,000 square miles, doubling the height of it, making the landed surface of the northern at least 1,840 feet above the average surface of the southern hemisphere, both its continents and ocean depths. What is there south of the equator to balance this enormous weight? There must be something or the earth would not maintain its poise.

If there was nothing, water level in that region would be impossible. Professor Morrisson believed that the balancing weight might be found in that 8,000,000 square miles of unexplored region lying within the antarctic circle. If it does exist there in the shape of ice, as all scientists believe it does, these immense mountains of ice must necessarily be of an average of over two and a half miles to make the southern hemisphere equal in weight to the northern.

But this state of things cannot always exist. At present the sun lingers eight days longer in the northern than it does in the southern hemisphere. This is owing to the earth's third motion, that of a slow wobbling on its axis. This caused it to approach nearest the sun on Dec. 21, 1248, and it will approach equally near on July 21 of the year 11748. We of the northern hemisphere will then be in the midst of a terrible winter, providing the whole of the land north of the equator has not been submerged; but there is good reason for believing that North America, Europe and Asia will then all be under water.

This terrible catastrophe will be brought about in this way: The southern hemisphere will then receive 40 per cent. more heat and light than it does now. This will melt the great ice accumulations at the south pole. One mile of that supposed two and a half, if melted, would raise the sea level at the north pole about 800 feet, at London 250 feet, at New York 200 feet. When all of it should melt the waters would stand 500 feet deep on the top of Lake Superior, and wash the base of the Rocky mountains throughout their entire length.—St.
Louis Republic.

Some Old Acorns.
C. B. Robertson once found a cavity in a large burr oak tree in which about a pint of pin oak acorns had been stored.
The excavation in which the acorns were found had been made by woodpeckers, and was in the most solid part of the tree. Mr. Robertson says that, according to Chambers, there was 395 years' growth of wood over the end of the cavity,
if only put away by the birds or squirrels the fall before.—St. Louis Republic.

A HORSE WHO CAN TALK.

Everybody has heard of a "horse laugh," but who has ever seen an equine gifted with the power of speech? Such an animal would be pronounced a miracle; but so would the telegraph and the telephone a hundred years ago. Why, even very recently a cure for consumption, which is universally acknowledged to be scrofula affecting the lungs, would have been looked upon as miraculous, but how people are beginning to realize that the disease is not incurable. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure it, if taken in time and given a fair trial. This world-renowned remedy will not make new lungs, but it will restore diseased ones to a healthy state when other means have failed. Thousands graciously testify to this. It is the most potent tonic, or strength-restorer, alterative, or blood-cleanser and nutritive, or flesh-builder, known to medical science.
For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh in the Head, as a all Lingering Coughs, it is an unequalled remedy. In derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels, as Indigestion, or Dyspepsia, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Chronic Diarrhea, and Kidney ailments, it is a sovereign remedy.
"Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, under a printed guarantee, from the manufacturer, that it will benefit or cure in every case of disease for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

Sweeping Charges.

An Associated Press dispatch states that Carson has been arrested by an editorial in the Appeal, the oldest Republican paper in the State, charging "that the Republican party in Nevada is obliged to use the sack on election day because of the unenviable record of the candidates; that men were put on the ticket who ought to grace a gallows beam or break rocks in the Penitentiary, and that men aspired to party honors and leadership who were thieves, embezzlers and refugees from justice."

This is a strong indictment, but as the Appeal has been in a position to know the facts on which the charges are based, it is scarcely overdrawn. It should, however, in justice to the honest, but mislead members, say that the "machine" which runs the party in Nevada is Republican only in name. Every candid Republican who has attended a State Convention of that party in the last dozen years will admit that the delegates not in the ring have had very little to say in naming the candidates. The slate was made out by the bosses, who put on the names of a few decent well-known citizens to give the appearance of respectability. Bosses run the conventions as they do the Legislature, and as the Appeal says, with the aid of the elect whom they please, and they please to elect but very few whom they cannot use. Men are selected to preside in the Legislature with the express understanding that they will permit the bosses to name the majority of every important committee, thus enabling them to shape legislation. No one for a moment doubts but what a Constitutional Convention would have been called in accordance with the will of the majority of the voters had it not been for boss interference. It is stated, too, on good authority, that the Governor was opposed to the Act creating the State Board of Assessors, but the bosses silenced his opposition by asking "what he thought they elected him for?"

Tin Plate.

"Tin plate no longer furnishes a theme for Democratic editors and writers, because all their predictions concerning it have turned out to be wrong and not one of them has the manliness to come out in a square acknowledgement of the fact."

The Lyon County Times, from which the above is taken, should, for the edification of its readers, if nothing more, be explicit and state what the Democrats predicted on the tin plate question that has not been fulfilled. The Times is doubtless aware that block tin, like nickel, is on the free list, and that the base of tin plate is iron, which was protected by a high tariff before Major McKinley was heard of in Congress. The duty was increased on tin plate, that is on the iron in the plate, as the tin is admitted free of duty, for the benefit of Carnegie and others who have become millionaires from the profits on iron, though the men in their employ are striking every few months for wages enough to supply them with the common necessities of life. If Democratic editors predicted that the increased tariff on tin plate would enhance its price, the Times has only to ask the nearest hardware merchant to ascertain that their predictions have been fulfilled. Before the passage of the McKinley bill tin plate was worth laid down in Reno $11 50 per box of 112 sheets; now it is worth $14 per box, an increase of $2 50. Now will the Times, while on this subject, name a person or industry in the State of Nevada, or on the Pacific Coast, or anywhere else, excepting the iron monopolists, that has been benefited by this advance in price? To use the language of Mr. Blaine, it has not made a market for one more bushel of wheat or barrel of pork, and has not increased the wages of workmen one cent.

An exchange says: Nearly all the members of Congress deny that they knew what they were voting for when they voted for the bill that demonetized silver. Garfield said so at different times. Conkling did not learn of it until three years after. President Grant did not know of it for months after he signed the bill. Democrats and Republicans were all in the same boat. And any member of either party who votes to continue the wrong, should get notice to quit and come home. A great many of them got their notice to quit last Fall. Others, like Ingalls, saw the handwriting on the wall, but before he knew what it meant, the wall fell broadside upon him. But I admire Ingalls, for he knew what hit him. The same handwriting is on the wall for several other great men, and the wall will surely destroy them if they don't do something for the producers of this country.

The third annual Congress of the Scotch Irish people of America will be held in Louisville, Kentucky, from May the 14th to the 17th, next. The Congress at Pittsburgh, Pa., last year was attended by President Harrison and his Cabinet, besides hundreds of other distinguished men. The gathering this year will be still more notable. It will assemble the best elements of the race from all parts of the United States and British America.

Highway Robbery.

Redding, March 30.—Carl R. Briggs, a business man of Redding, was held up by a highwayman this evening while going to Shasta. The stage came down a different road and escaped. This indicates that the stage robber who has been pursuing his calling is still with us.

Massacre in Assam.

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL.

CALCUTTA, March 30.—A dispatch from Manipur, the Province of Assam, says: James A. Quinton, Chief Commissioner of Assam, has been investigating some troubles which occurred among the native chiefs, with a view to arresting the one who has been instrumental in deposing Rajah. The Commissioner occupied the camp, garrisoned by a strong force of Goorkhas, the native infantry in the British service. Suddenly this camp was attacked by a number of hostile tribes. There was a two-day's battle, during which desperate fighting took place. The Goorkhas fought most determinedly against heavy odds, and according to report 470 of them were killed. Seven British officers who accompanied the Commissioner, and that officer cannot be found.

News of the massacre were brought to Kohima, on the Assam frontier by two Goorkhas. It originated in a feud between Rajah of Manipur, and a leading tribal chief. Rajah was deposed and appealed to the Viceroy. Mr. Quinton, was sent to settle the trouble, and started from headquarters at Shillong, escorted by the Forty-second and Forty-fourth Goorkha light infantry. After crossing the frontier Quinton summoned a durbar at Manipur for the purpose of arresting the rebellious chief. Tribesmen, pretending to obey the summons, mustered in force, and at midnight, on the day before the day on which the durbar was to be held, suddenly attacked the camp of Commissioner Quinton, which lay between Kohima and Manipur. An attempt to surprise the camp failed, and the tribesmen were driven back. They returned, however, and kept up an attack and siege, night and day for 48 hours. Finally the ammunition of the Goorkhas gave out and Commissioner Quinton was obliged to give the order "Surrev qui sent."

During the fight scouts were sent out to try to communicate with Shillong, but never returned. Manipur natives cut the telegraph wires and killed the messengers. Fugitives report that a general massacre followed the taking of the camp. There is reason to believe that the estimate that 470 were killed is incorrect. The rebellion is famous for cunning, cruelty and bravery.

Immediately upon receiving the news of the disaster the Viceroy at Simla summoned a council.

Two native regiments, stationed in Assam, have already been dispatched to Manipur. The Third Bengal Infantry will start for the scene to-morrow.

Not a Federal Question.

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Supreme Court of the United States to-day refused to grant an application for a writ of habeas corpus in the somewhat celebrated murder case of Dick Duncan vs. McCall, the Sheriff of Baxter county, Texas, in which it was sought to bring into question the validity of the entire penal code of the State of Texas. Duncan was duly indicted, tried and convicted in Texas of the murder and sentenced to be hanged. He appealed his case through all the intermediate courts in the State of Texas, and when the Court of Appeals of the "Lone Star State" decided against him, the case was taken to the United States Courts, and the decision being still against him, it was brought here. The Supreme Court, in an opinion by Chief Justice Fuller, affirms the Circuit Court, from which the last appeal was taken.

Duncan's contention was that the penal code of Texas had never been lawfully enacted in accordance with the requirements of the State Constitution, and that the code enrolled differed, through errors of the enrolling clerks, from the code passed by the State Legislature. Had Duncan's contention been sustained, it would have resulted in a release of all the prisoners in the State, and would have totally upset the State criminal system.

The State of Texas, says the opinion, is in full possession of its faculties as a member of the Union, and its legislative, executive and judicial departments are peaceably operating by the orderly and settled methods prescribed by the fundamental law. Whether certain statutes have, or have not, a binding force is for the State to determine, and that determination in itself involves no infraction of the Constitution of the United States, and raises no federal question giving this Court jurisdiction.

The Directors May Be Indicted.

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Chauncey M. Depew appeared before the Grand Jury today as a witness in its investigation into the recent New York Central Tunnel accident. Later the jury waited upon Judge Fitzgerald and asked him a number of questions. In the course of his reply the Judge said that if the Directors of the railroad have control and management of the road, it is their duty to see that the requirements of the law for the safety of the traveling public are regarded. Any person concerned in the commission of an act is a member of the liable party. The law says that some person shall be responsible. Those people control the management of this road; they have a clear duty imposed upon them by the statute. If they have violated the statute, an indictment should be found, and let me state that, while it is proper in cases where persons of eminent standing in a community have serious charges made against them it is well to carefully inquire into all the particulars, yet the law requires that the same law should be enforced against them as against anyone else. If the facts warrant an indictment it should be found. Judge Fitzgerald's words created a stir in court. In reply to further questions, the court said the Directors could be chargeable with a misdemeanor as well as a corporation. There is no doubt in the mind of any person who was in the court-room when the jury filed out but that a true bill will be found against the Directors of the road.

The Counterfeit Silver Certificate.

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Secret Service officers declare the $3 silver certificate a most dangerous one. The vignette of Hancock is as fine as the original and the lettering and the work is an exact copy of the Treasury note. In fact, the only difference is too minute to be visible to the naked eye. In the upper left hand and lower right hand corners of the genuine note is a figure "2" and on its face is engraved in characters so minute they are not legible except under a magnifying glass, the word "two" repeated three times. In the counterfeit the word is similarly engraved the same number of times, but in two cases the counterfeit has made the letters read "owt." The discovery of the counterfeit is not a new thing. Attention was called to it some time ago but the unknown counterfeiters watch the Secret Service bulletins closely. When the discrepancy was discovered in the note bearing the check letter "A" and the signature of "C. N. Jordan," the counterfeiters changed the check letter to "B" and the name to that of Treasurer Hyatt. The entire circulation may have to be called in.

Hall and Fitzsimmons.

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Joe Harris, the manager of Jim Hall the Australian middleweight, called at the Associated Press office with Hall to-night and stated that he had posted $2,500 in this city today to bind a match with Bob Fitzsimmons before the Astoria, Oregon, Athletic Club, which recently offered a purse of $17,000 for this contest. Fifteen hundred dollars of the forfeit was placed with the Chronicle, and the remaining one thousand is in the hands of M. Gust of this city. Harris states that he will expect Fitzsimmons' backers to cover this forfeit at once, otherwise he will understand that Fitzsimmons does not want to fight Hall.

A Man Found Murdered.

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL.

RIVERSIDE, March 30.—Yesterday two Frenchmen went to Spring Brook, a small stream west of town, to wash clothing. They left their boarding house about 6:30. About an hour afterwards some children discovered a dead man lying on the edge of the brook. Investigation proved it to be Louis Allieret, one of the Frenchmen. His skull was crushed with a heavy rock and his face badly cut. His pockets were robbed of everything valuable. His companion, named Benjamin Hallajano, was arrested and is now in jail waiting the result of a coroner's inquest.

A Comet Discovered.

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL.

MOON HAMILTON, Cal., March 30.—A small, fairly bright comet, with a tail 15 minutes long was discovered by Prof. E. E. Barnard last night at the Lick Observatory at 8 hours 34 minutes. Its position was right ascension, one hour, 10 minutes and 10 seconds; North declination 44 degrees, 48 minutes. The comet is moving rapidly south in the direction of the sun one degree a day. This makes the fifteenth comet discovered by this observer. It's present motion will soon carry it out of sight in the neighborhood of the sun.

A Failure.

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The New York Smelting and Refining Company of this city has been put in a receiver's hands by Judge Barrett. There are $43,000 in executions against the company. Assets, $60,000 to $70,000.

The failure of Falk & Sons, merchants at Savannah, Georgia, has been followed by that of their New York house. Liabilities, $17,000. The nominal assets exceed these figures, but it is believed the actual assets will pay all claims in full.

George C. Merrick, of Colorado, has made another attempt to get a silver brick coined into dollars at the Mint. A petition in behalf of himself and associates has been filed in the Supreme Court at Washington praying for a mandamus to compel Secretary Foster to receive a silver bar for free coinage. It is urged in behalf of the petitioners that the Act demonetizing silver and prohibiting its free coinage at the United States Mints is unconstitutional.

A Terrapin Farm.

Of late years a number of terrapin farms have been started along the Chesapeake. The biggest farm is on the Patuxent river, and it consists of a large salt water lake, which could accommodate thousands of terrapin if they would breed as rapidly as is desired. The farmer has strounded this lake with board fences to keep out the muskrats and fives, which are the terrapin's enemies. He has made hatcheries of boxes partly filled with sand, and so arranged that when the females enter them they cannot get out until they are taken out. He has nurseries for young terrapin, and he keeps the little ones in here until they are ten months old, in order to preserve them from their fathers.—Frank G. Carpenter in Pittsburg Dispatch.

NEW TO-DAY.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of its kind which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses Sold for One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. L. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.
100 Doses One Dollar

DR. HERDAN

RESPECTFULLY INFORMS THE public that he has opened an office at the Arlington House, Carson, but still has an office at the Clarendon Hotel, first floor, rooms 1 and 2, Reno, Nevada, where he can be consulted by all those needing his attention on Mondays from 9 A. M. to 10 P. M., and on Tuesdays from 8 A. M. to 1:45 P. M. A telegram will reach him any day and he will cheerfully come as his time belongs to the people.

I have treated 215 patients while in Reno, and anyone who is dissatisfied can enter their complaints within three days from the first publication of this notice, and I will return him or her every dollar that has been paid me, together with the drug store expenses. I take this method of returning thanks to the good people who have been my patients, and trust the same pleasant relations may exist in the future that has marked our short acquaintance.

OPERA HOUSE DRY GOODS STORE

To the Business Men and Citizens of the State of Nevada:

THE TIME HAS COME when I am compelled to plead my own cause in this boycotting business. First, I will acknowledge that I signed the first contract to close at 8 o'clock, also that I did all I could to carry it out and help the League; but as it has been my misfortune to have reverses in business, and as I was compelled to raise money for parties that I owe, I went to the Clerk's League at a meeting on two different occasions, and told them it would be impossible for me to close at 8 o'clock.

Now, when the League says I, on different occasions, violated my pledge, all I can say and prove, and that by Mr. Al Wilson, who is a member of the League, that it is FALSE, as Mr. Wilson has been in my employ since the contract was signed.

So far as my word is concerned, it is for the people to say, and not for the League to publish such trash to the entire State. I will further state that when the time comes that a few boys try to pull down and degrade a man when he has the misfortune that I have had, then it is high time to sell out and let the boys run the town.

Respectfully,
C. W. BOOTON.

DEAD BY THE TRACK.
While His Loving Mother Waited and Watched in Vain for Him.
"The Western and Atlantic train left the track last night at McIvor's, and Richard McClain, fireman, was killed." That was the message, almost brutal in its brevity, that was flashed over the wires from Atlanta to Brunswick. He was only a fireman, of small consequence to this matter of fact world, with its rush and bustle, and so a three line paragraph in the morning papers was his obituary.
But back of this bare notice of McClain's death is one of the most pathetic stories in the history of railroad accidents in Georgia. The dead man had a mother and family who lived in the valley of the famous Chickamauga, and about them centers the pathos of the story. But let Engineer Adamson, who stood weeping over the body of his friend, tell it:
"He was a good boy," he said; "one of the best hearted men in the world. And he loved his family so! Every night when he would run by his home his mother would put out a light to let him know that all was well, and he would answer with a light. Last night she may have watched all night, for he didn't pass, and no doubt she was troubled with the thought that something was wrong."
And something was wrong.
While the faithful mother, with her lamp of love a-flame, was straining her eyes through the darkness of the night to catch a gleam of the flashing headlight that announced "all's well" with her son, that son was stark in death.
The eyes that had watched for the light in the window that told of the safety of mother and kindred were glazed by death. No more would they strain through the dusk of the valley for the red ray which conveyed to him a message of love from home.
Richard was dead by the track!
The loving mother, what of her?
Through the dark watches she waited at the window, in her hand the beacon that assured Richard of the well-being of the jewels of his heart.
But the rush and roar of the engine, and the flashing of the headlight through the swart reaches of the valley never came.
The minutes ticked slowly by.
"Richard is late to-night," thought the loving woman, "but I'll wait a while longer. It is almost like a visit from him to catch a glimpse of the headlight."
So she waited till her eyes grew heavy with sleep.
And Richard was dead by the track!
Finally she said:
"I'll leave the lamp in the window and lie down a while. I can hear the roar of the engine in time to wave the light."
Slumber came unconsciously to the loving but tired eyes. When she awoke the sun was shooting his silver arrows through the chinks of the room. The faithful heart turned toward the window. The lamp was extinguished. The mother sat up with great eyes staring at the darkened lamp. A shadow of woe came darkening over her, chilling the warm love currents of her heart.
For—Richard was dead by the track! Light and love had died together.—Brunswick (Ga.) Times.

Heavy Liabilities.
"Say, girls," said one of a trio of young ladies, "let's go up on this car. The walks are very slippery."
"Oh, I prefer the exercise of walking," answered one of her companions.
"Well, I don't," said the remaining one, a tall blonde, "I'm going to ride."
With little parley the three boarded the car. They conversed pleasantly until near Pearl street, when, as the conductor approached for their fares, two of the girls began nervously unbuttoning their gloves.
"Blanche, will you please pay my fare?" said one, turning to her neighbor.
"I can't. I have only ten cents. But," said she, turning to the imperial blonde, "will you pay for us?"
"I haven't a cent," sentimentally replied the blonde. And with burning cheeks the young ladies signaled the conductor and stepped silently but thoughtfully from the car. Their liabilities exceeded their assets.—Albany Argus.

Cheese Parings.
Cheese parings—are they worth hoarding? Certainly not, and yet thousands find in them an interesting occupation. It is a singular fact that there are many persons who spend all their time in peevishly saving scraps, the accumulated value of which is of no consequence whatever, yet who will now and again give away large sums of money. Some even will regularly subscribe to charitable objects sums a small percentage of which would alter all their human relations, and make a number of fellow mortals who come in contact with them happy day by day. Which is the wiser to endow a Charity (with a capital C, mind) for strangers or to show charity at home?—New York Ledger.

Knows Only Two Tunes.
Speaking of music, here is a true story of a well known and greatly esteemed Boston journalist to round out with:
The journalist is so far from being a musician that he is accused of being destitute of the sense of tune. One time he was rallied on this point by a lady of his acquaintance, who asked him point blank:
"Is it true, Mr. A., that you don't know one tune from another?"
"It is a fact," he said, "that I can't readily distinguish tunes apart. There are only two tunes that I really know well."
"What are they?"
"Old Hundred and the long meter Doxology!"—Boston Transcript.

Worse Than Doing Nothing.
"What in the world are you doing?" yelled Cusmo to his youngest, when he caught him pounding his papa's watch with a hammer.
"Killing time," replied the precocious infant.—Harper's Bazar.
